TOO CLOSE TO FIFTH AVE.
ABRAHAM CAHAN'S BIRTH-DAY
AN ARMY OF DANGER

—By Arthur Brisbane—

NEW YORK'S respectability was shaken figuratively and literally at 4 o'clock last Saturday morning. A racketeer's bomb exploded on the window sill of a fine dwelling house at 26 W. 53d street, a few doors west of Fifth avenue, one block south of the town residence of John D. Rockefeller Jr.

THE BOMBED RESIDENCE IS occupied by a night club, and police say the bomb was a warning to the club that it must divide profits with the racketeers. This first bomb was not planned to kill, merely to serve notice.

AN English lady, in 1916, when she could no longer get the right dog biscuit for her chow said: "The war has ceased to be a joke." New York says gang war ceased to be a joke when it reaches Fifth ave.

New York's police believed that the racketeers are moving from Chicago to New York because of increased Chicago police activity. New York police act, with gangsters, less ruthlessly than they do in Chicago.

A CHICAGO beer seller "tipped" the police that racketeers were to visit him. The police hid in his beer flat and when the racketeers appeared, shot them dead.

Learning that gangsters were to raid a payroll of a big laundry New York's police hid and arrested instead of killing the five gangsters.

Visiting gangsters should not, however, count on too much police gentleness in New York. Mayor Walker's new chief, Mulrooney, knows criminals, and how to discourage them. If shooting at sight is necessary, there will be plenty of it.

ABRAHAM CAHAN, editor and creator of "The Jewish Daily Forward," received many congratulations yesterday on his seventieth birthday. One came from Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, another from Adolph S. Ochs, editor of a different type.

Mr. Cahan, a brilliant writer and absolutely sincere, has spent his life teaching men and women to think for themselves. No work on earth is more important.

MANY COLUMNS ARE printed about fighting armies in China and possibilities of other wars among human beings. But more important to the human race, perhaps is the extraordinary migration of rats, reported under way in eastern Siberia.

Rats carry fleas, fleas carry disease most dangerous and fatal to men, bubonic plague, typhus and the pneumonic plague, contracted merely by inhaling the breath of its victims and able to strike down those that attend the victim's funeral.

RATS EVERY YEAR destroy $200,000,000 worth of property in the United States. But that is nothing compared with the harm that an invasion of an eastern plague might do in a few weeks.

If governments would spend on the destruction of rats and mosquitoes one-tenth the amount they spent on the last war, this would be a better, safer, world.

Three persons were injured in automobile accidents occurring near Salem Sunday. Automobile traffic on highways throughout the state exacted eight lives over the weekend while an eight-year-old boy, formerly of Leetonia, was drowned at Lakeside, near Cleveland.

Mary Miller, 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sophie Miller, Star route, near Salem, was cut and bruised in an accident occurring on the Salem-Damascus road about 8 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. N. A. Unbanski of Canton, sustained a slight shoulder injury in the same crash.

STATE DECREASE
IN 1930 CENSUS

Cuyahoga Shows Greatest
Increase Darke County
Decrease Largest

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 14.—Thirty-nine of Ohio's 88 counties decreased in population during the past decade, according to complete unofficial census figures compiled by the Associated Press. The state's total population is set at 6,695,953. An increase of 865,275 as compared with 5,740,678 in 1920. The percentage gain was 15 per cent.

Counties reporting decreases are those in the rural sections. Loss ranged from 21 in Delaware county to 4,806 in Darke county.

Indications of a continued movement to the cities was shown by the steady growth reported by the large urban centers, all of which reported substantial gains.

Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) climbed from 943,495 in 1920 to 1,197,818, 1930 to hold its position at the head of the county list, while Hamilton county (Cincinnati) remained in second place with a population of 589,114, a gain of 95,436.

Franklin County, containing Columbus, jumped from 283,951 to 359,459, and Lucas county (Toledo) climbed from 273,721 to 347,749. Other large counties showed increases similarly large. Taken as a whole, however, the state's rate of growth was somewhat slower from 1920 to 1930 than during the preceding 10-year period. In 1920, the population was 20 per cent more than in 1910.

Development of new industries played a big part in the 1910-1920 increase. Akron, for example, grew from a comparatively small town to one of the state's largest cities during the period. This year's census gives Summit county, including Akron, a population of 337,947, an increase of 51,881 over 1920.

Others show increase. The unofficial count in other large counties included Stark, 222,556, increase 45,348; Butler, 114,105, increase 27,080; Trumbull, 123,053, increase 39,133; Lorain, 109,031, increase 18,326; Jefferson, 88,236, increase 10,709; Allen, 84,422, increase 11,739; Tuscawawas, 68,189, increase 4,611; Clark, 60,466, gain 7,565.

Other counties reporting decreases were Adams, Athens, Browns, Champaign, Clinton, Coshocton, Delaware, Fayette, Gallia, Gurney, Hardin, Harrison, Henry, Highland, Hocking, Holmes, Jackson, Knox, Logan, Meigs, Mercer, Monroe, Shelby, Union, Van Wert, Vinton, Washington, Williams, and Wyandot.

On Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

One watchman was killed and considerable property damage was done by electrical storms which swept several sections of Ohio yesterday and broke the heat wave.

The vicinity of Painesville bore the worst of the storm. A north-west wind felled trees over down wires and logged the road along Lake Erie to Mentor headlands, a summer resort. The Painesville-Richmond road also was blocked by trees and wires for some time.

Mrs. Charles Collaw, 36, South Plymouth, another storm enter, was killed by lightning which struck her home as she was lighting a fire to prepare breakfast.

A cottage was struck by lightning and burned at Piqua and streets of that city were awash for a time. Firemen had to clear some of the streets of debris before traffic could move.

One drowning was recorded at Cleveland, which until a heavy rain late yesterday sweltered in a temperature of 89 degrees, one less than the season's record. Alois Knez, 50, lost his life at Willowick, when his head struck a stone as he dived into Lake Erie.

The death was indirectly blamed for the death of Leonard Dykanski, 100, who became dizzy and fell from the fire escape of his home at Cincinnati while seeking a cigar place.

MOONEY WITNESS
AWAITS RELEASE

Will Go West To Tell
Of Alleged Perjury
At Bomb Trial

BALTIMORE, July 14.—John MacDonald today awaited his release by Baltimore authorities so that he could go back to California to tell Governor C. C. Young that his evidence 14 years ago which aided in sending Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings to prison for life, was untrue. Mooney and Billings were convicted of causing the deaths of the persons in the 1916 bombing of a San Francisco

MacDonald, who says he desires to "undo the wrong he has done regardless of the personal consequences" was taken into custody Friday evening after his identification through a photograph published in a Baltimore newspaper.

In a sworn statement he said his testimony at the trial that he saw Mooney and Billings place a suitcase at the corner where the blast occurred was false; "that he had never seen either of the two men and that it would be impossible for him to identify them."

MEDIUM CLAIMS SPIRIT

10,000; Some Walk From Building;
Others Claimed To Have Spoken

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 14.—The widow of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was heartened today by what she accepted as a spirit message from her husband who died last week.

A medium, Mrs. Estelle Roberts, claimed to have received the message after a public memorial service at Albert Hall had ended with 50 or more of the audience of 10,000 walking out in protest at five alleged spirit messages from other persons long dead and gone.

The medium claimed each of these five stood beyond her chair and pushed her. She said one was a woman suffragist who several years ago threw herself under one of King George's horses. Persons in the audience claimed to recognize and identify each message.

The medium at this point complained of the audience walking out on her and said she could not continue. A vast roar of excited talk arose and the pipe organ was started to drown out the noise.

The medium walked across the platform to Lady Doyle and said: "I

Aviators Strike Mountain
On Trip From England
To Australia

RANGOON, BURMA, July 14.—Searching parties penetrating the southern Burmese jungle today hoped to find Erik Hook, British airman left dying last week by a buddy, Jimmie Matthews, who stumbled on, he said, to find help for both of them.

Little hope was held for success of the quest. Matthews himself, bruised and worn from the crash of their England to Australia airplane 10 days ago and the subsequent march of civilization, discouraged hope. The jungle where he left Hook is known for its predatory wild beasts.

Matthews Saturday reached Prom, 160 miles north of Rangoon, with the story that he and Hook cracked up their plane on a mountain side July 3, while flying between Akyab, Burma, and Rangoon, in an attempt to beat the 15-day flight record from England to Australia.

Both were injured in the crash, but Hook more severely. Matthews said that in the next few days as they tried to reach civilization he was forced often to carry the more badly hurt man on his back. Finally beset by hunger, thirst and the damp diurnal malarial country through which they passed, they decided it would be best for him to go on alone and seek help, even though Hook was left to die. Matthews said Hook was in a dying condition when finally he left him. After some time he himself was found by a group of village hunters, who fed him, and took him to Prom.

CITY EXTENSION TO GET FINAL READING

Traffic Laws Will Come
Up For Discussion
On Tuesday

Action on three important municipal measures is scheduled at the meeting of city council at council chambers Tuesday night.

Third reading and final passage of the ordinance for the extension of Salem city limits; action on an ordinance recodifying the city's traffic laws and the formulation of the financial budget for 1931 are the outstanding legislative issues to be acted upon at the meeting.

The ordinance to extend the corporation limits has been given two readings at previous sessions of council but absence of three members prevented possible suspension of rules. The third reading and final passage will place the extension of the city limits project in its final step completing litigation that has extended over a period of more than three months.

Auditor Gets Estimates
City Auditor Helen R. Woerther was receiving estimates of needs for the coming year from heads of all city departments this morning preparatory to making up the budget which will be presented to council. Increases are expected from each department to bring the amount asked from the county by the city well over last year's total which was $165,784.

A special committee which has been investigating traffic conditions here has completed its work and is expected to give its final report at the meeting. An ordinance which will provide for a complete recodification of laws governing vehicular traffic in the city's limits will be submitted by City Solicitor Cecil K. Scott. Passage under suspension of rules is anticipated.

A report has already been given by Councilman Samuel Krauss, chairman of the special committee, recommending a new traffic light system in the downtown business district. Action will be taken on this report.

WORK PROCEEDS

Progress In 1930 County
Program Reported; Projects Many

LISBON, July 14.—Harry M. Bates of Steubenville, recently awarded the contract for building six miles of 18-foot concrete highway between Summitville and Kensington, will begin to pour concrete on this project three miles east of East Rochester this week. Subgrading has been finished. Materials will be trucked from Kensington and when the last concrete has been poured at Kensington, equipment will be removed to Summitville.

Construction will then begin at the west end of the three mile stretch and work proceed eastward to connect with the present concrete highway at Summitville.

This is the longest concrete highway to be built in Columbiana county this season.

Bates also has the contract for constructing three miles of concrete road on the Salem-Lisbon road, and about one-half mile of roadway was poured last week.

Favorable progress is being made on the grading of the Valley-Salem road. This contract was awarded last year to Dennison & Sturgis of Youngstown, and because of the slow progress made by that firm the contract was declared in default, and then taken over by a bonding company for completion. Over half of this road has been graded.

Find 32 Caliber Revolver
Murphy died at the hospital at 10:40 p. m. Saturday. He was shot in the left side of the neck by a .32 caliber bullet at about 5:15 p. m. at Dragich's apartments, less than a block west of the downtown business district.

Murphy was taken to the hospital by Dragich shortly after being shot. Dragich returned to his home where he was later arrested by Police Chief T. W. Thompson. The revolver, which police say fired the fatal shot, was found in his automobile. Two shots were fired from it.

The case was first reported to police at 9:15 by Dr. G. A. Roose of the hospital. Dr. L. A. Cobbs attended Murphy and told police that the man told him the wound was self-inflicted but later contradicted this statement. Police say Murphy informed physicians that as far as he was concerned no one would ever be informed how he was shot.

Bullet Enters Neck
The bullet entered the left side of his neck and was found imbedded in a door of the kitchen in Dragich's home, Thompson stated today. The wound is not believed to have penetrated a vital spot, death having been caused by resultant infection.

PRINCIPLES AND PRESENT NECESSITY

The pending consideration of the naval treaty by the senate sitting in special session is done against a background in which party politics are unimportant. Republicans and Democrats alike are anxious to hasten the matter to the favorable close which will result from a vote. Their restlessness is directed toward ratification. If postponement were the idea of the treaty's opponents they could effect it more easily by going home than by arguing in Washington.

The body of the discussion on the naval treaty is represented by the tone of the arguments which were presented this week—arguments concerning a point that has no practical relation to the fate of content of the document. Led by Senator Johnson of California, a small minority of the senate demands publication of the dispatches passed between the state department and Ambassador Dawes relative to last winter's naval parley in London. The content of those communications is available to senators who will accept it in close confidence, but Senators Johnson and McKellar, notably, want to establish a prerogative by securing the "right" to see them and talk about them as they please. They are opposed in the senate chiefly by Senators Reed and Robinson, who were members of the American delegation to the conference.

It may be presumed that those senators who are delaying ratification of the naval treaty by arguments on unrelated points are sincere. It is their wish to strike a blow at secret diplomacy and at the same time to clarify further certain obscure points of the relation between the senate and the president in the making of treaties. The related point, however, concerns the wisdom of taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the naval treaty to win their cause. Public opinion is ready for ratification.

There are these doubts concerning the stand exemplified by Senators Johnson and McKellar against secret diplomacy. Can diplomacy be other than secret and be effective? Would public knowledge of Ambassador Dawes' communications offer any advantages? Would it not cause displeasure all out of proportion to its value, if it happened to contain the ambassador's frank impressions of some of the personalities with whom Secretary Stimson would have to deal? Furthermore, if official communications were all to be made public would not the effect be merely to make diplomacy more difficult and round about? It must be granted that there is a certain class of diplomatic information dealing in personalities that is essential to successful diplomacy and at the same time injurious to the cause of international amicability.

The larger question concerning the relation of the president and the senate as regards treaty-making has been unsettled for 150 years, more or less. It was assumed at the beginning that the president would be in constant confidential communication with the 26-member senate and that all deliberations would be secret. The first treaties were with Indian tribes in various regions and it was essential that the senate be an active party in their making. There was no anticipation of the conditions which exist today—a senate with 96 members debating foreign affairs publicly. There is a possible outside chance of clarifying the issue slightly by means of the naval treaty, but it will not be settled.

The naval treaty is a living issue of the immediate present. It is a matter to be settled. The senate should be more concerned with the possibilities it offers to encourage advancement than in the abstract principles of secret diplomacy and treaty-making power which will not be settled by their arguments.

"Dollar Gaining in Buying Power" reads a headline in the day's news. That's encouraging to every one. What Others Say

NURSING A TREASURY SURPLUS

Despite the crash in the stock market last October and its inevitable repercussions in industry and trade, the federal treasury ended its fiscal year on June 30 with a substantial surplus—approximately $200,000,000. The collapse in Wall Street and other financial centers affected adversely the income-tax payments of comparatively few persons.

A different story may have to be told a year hence. Recovery from the business depression has been slower than even financial authorities had anticipated. Exports have declined heavily as compared with those of 1929 and the worldwide dislocation of international commerce still exerts a serious effect on American industry.

President Hoover and Secretary Mellon have deemed it necessary to warn congress sharply against over-appropriations and a possible treasury deficit. Most certainly it would not help business if the federal government found it necessary to ask an increase in income-tax rates at the next session of congress. To avoid that possibility congress will have to practice rigorous economy, rejecting all projects that lack genuine merit or that properly may be postponed. For the coming year congress has appropriated $4,500,000,000. If the nation's revenues dwindle it will not be easy to find the requisite funds to meet those heavy charges.

Whatever the states, the local governments, the public utilities and the great corporations can do to provide employment on a sound economic basis and generally promote the recovery of industry they should do so as speedily as possible, for action of that sort is required to bring renewed prosperity.—Chicago News, July 3.

Family Elimination Causes Ills

There are certain complaints which are common to most of the human race. We give advice, but constant repetition is necessary.

Time and time again society must be impressed with the importance of overcoming these conditions, in order that good health may be enjoyed.

Constipation is one such condition. More symptoms are the result of this trouble than perhaps of any other disease. In addition, the symptoms are often so obscure they hardly seem traceable to this cause.

Four intestinal eliminations, if permitted to go on, results eventually in general poisoning, "autointoxication." There will be headache, bad breath, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and general discomfort. There are many other symptoms, usually disagreeable.

Try first thing to do about constipation is to sit down and take stock of all the symptoms from which you suffer. Nine times out of ten it will be found that there is acidity after eating, bad taste in the mouth, feeling of fullness after eating and poor elimination. There may be pain in the joints, backache, dark spots before the eyes, lack of energy, and so forth.

To the treatment of constipation the diet is most important. Avoid all fried foods as well as excessive quantities of starch and sugar.

Add to the diet bran, coarse cereals and breads, roughage such as celery, raw cabbage and salads. Stewed fruits, well cooked vegetables, plenty of water to drink—all these will help a lot.

Exercise is important in correcting constipation. I do not mean simply an occasional lackadaisical walk, but exercise that will give the blood circulation. Swimming, rowing, brisk walking, gymnasium exercises, "health" exercises are all beneficial.

To hasten and increase elimination the use of mineral oil is wise. This may be taken plain or with agaragar.

This use of the oil is not to produce the effects of castor oil. It merely acts by its presence lubricating the intestinal wall and in this way encouraging the discharge of waste.

Answers to Health Queries
E. H. H. Q.—What causes deep circles under the eyes? My health is otherwise good.

A—These blemishes may be due to lack of sleep, worry, intestinal upsets, etc. Try to find the underlying cause and the proper treatment will suggest itself.

A. E. R. Q.—What is the cause of eczema and what treatment would you suggest?

A—The trouble may be due to a number of causes—improper diet and poor elimination are among the important factors when looking for a cause. Keep the bowels open and the system clear.

M. W. Q.—What will take away the mucus in my throat?

A—You are probably troubled with nasal catarrh, with dripping into the throat. In its cure first attention must be given to correcting the underlying catarrhal condition.

MISS O. A. Q.—How can I reduce?

A—What should a girl weigh who is 15½ ft. tall and 5 ft 2 in. tall?

A—What can be done for constipation?

A—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

A—For her age and height she should weigh about 112 pounds.

A—The diet should be corrected. Most important of all, foods unduly rich in fats and starches should be avoided.

R. E. M. Q.—How much should a girl of 19, 5 ft. 4 in. tall weigh?

A—What causes the fingers and palm of the hand to itch and burn?

Reader, Q.—What causes heartburn and what is the remedy?

A—How can one reduce a high abdomen? Also a large bust?

A—Flatulence is due to acidity and this in turn is caused by improper digestion and poor elimination. Correct the diet and keep the system clear.

A—Cut down on sweets and starches and take some systematic exercise daily.

WEAR BUNN'S GOOD SHOES

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

The Ohio Medical society this year reaches its 75th birthday, having been established in 1851. Toledo claims the honor of having been its birthplace, but it was established upon the foundations of the old Ohio Medical Convention, which was a rather loose association of the leading physicians of the state that had been in existence since 1825.

Regarding the society as the lineal descendant of the convention, which had been held each year since its organization, Columbus may lay claim to the honor of remotely setting the organization on its way. For the first of the medical conventions was not only held at Columbus, but a prominent physician in Columbus was one of the number who sent out the call for the first meeting and had the honor of serving as one of the secretaries of that first meeting, Dr. W. W. Aul.

That original Ohio Medical Convention was held in the First Presbyterian church of Columbus, which stood where the Hartman theater building now stands, on Jan. 5, 1854, preceding the Ohio Medical society by 16 years. Dr. Peter Allen of Trumbull county presided over the first convention, and Dr. Aul was one of the several secretaries. Dr. Aul's preference was for surgery at first, but later on he became more interested in nervous and mental diseases, and he took a principal part in urging upon the legislature through the conventions, the necessity of doing something for the care of the insane. He had largely turned away from the practice of medicine by the time the society was formed, and when the first state institution for the insane was opened at what is now East Park Place, Columbus, he was made its first superintendent, and served in that capacity until 1850.

free wheeling is here!

You don't have to touch the clutch, except to start or back up!

FREE WHEELING—the greatest of Studebaker's many impressive contributions to the industry's progress! Studebaker is the first American car to offer free wheeling.

Like many marvelous engineering advances, free wheeling is simplicity itself. Imagine a car in which you don't have to touch the clutch, except to start or back up!

Think of being able to shift from high to second at forty . . . fifty miles per hour, and never touch the clutch!

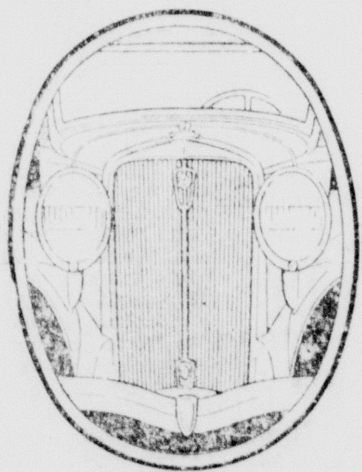

Consider the satisfaction of enjoying these motoring marvels in a seasoned champion Eight, with a saving of 12 per cent on gas, 20 per cent on oil—even more in heavy traffic! Consider, too, the economy of less carbon, less strain and wear on engine, transmission and all driving units!

You literally glide along. Your car momentum never forces your engine—there is no sensation of "piling up" when you decelerate.

Your car is surprisingly quiet in every speed . . . uncannily silent when you're free wheeling.

You are safer because you have absolute control of your car . . . you can shift at any speed . . . there is less hazard of skidding.

Almost incredible as these statements may seem to you, a drive in the New Series Studebaker President or Commander Eight will prove them to you. Phone for a demonstration. We promise you the thrill of your life.

LONDON TREATY SPONSORS FEAR QUORUM BREAK

Opponents Might Attempt To Force Vote On Issue Into Fall

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—The senate today began its second week of debate on the London treaty with sponsors of the pact frankly worried over the problem of keeping a quorum present.

Before the end of the week they foresee an effort by the opponents of ratification to postpone a vote until fall and they were drawing up plans to defeat this move.

Meanwhile, the foes of the pact were preparing for a series of resolutions expected to present several of these in connection with a prepared speech opposing ratification.

The attendance during the first week of the debate numbered but a few more than the 49 necessary for a quorum. On Friday just 49 answered the roll call.

Could Break Quorum
Those present have included every one of the opponents of the treaty and administration leaders conceded their opponents had the power to break a quorum at any time by absenting themselves.

The week was expected to see a vigorous contest over the reservation introduced by Senator Norris as an aftermath of President Hoover's refusal to give the senate certain confidential documents on the negotiation of the pact which it had requested of him.

The Norris proposal would have the senate ratify the treaty with the understanding it is not modified in any way by any secret documents nor by any agreement among its authors not included in the pact itself.

Administration senators are opposed to the reservation, its approval, they say, would be a direct slap at President Hoover as he has given the senate repeated assurance no secret commitments were made in drafting the treaty.

GUNMAN EVADES POLICE SEARCH

Fred Burke Leaves Half-Hour Before Police Arrive On Scene

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 14.—Fred Burke, notorious Chicago gunman with $101,000 in rewards on his head, still is at large today. Chicago detectives who raided a cottage on Hess lake, 40 miles north of here in Newago county, Sunday night, expecting to find Burke there with a woman, discovered he had fled them by half an hour. Through a coincidence Burke had learned that the officers were coming and driven away taking the woman with him. About 5:30 p. m., a Newago county deputy sheriff went to a country store near the lake to telephone Win. A. Smith, in whose cottage Burke and the woman had been living for the past three months, was in the store and heard the deputy mention Burke's name. Smith, who was found of the cottage, was held for questioning.

The tip which led to the raid on the Smith cottage at Hess lake is believed to have come from Thomas Bonner, petty Chicago racketeer who was slain last Thursday. Bonner's widow identified a photograph of Burke as that of the slayer. Bonner had visited Burke in Newago county according to police, and was killed for telling Burke might be found.

Burke is hunted for complicity in the St. Valentine's day massacre at Chicago, the slaying of a St. Joseph, Mich., policeman, robbery of a bank at Jefferson, Wis., the slaying of Bonner and numerous other slayings and robberies.

Lisbon, Dog Likes Chicken Dinners

LISBON, July 14.—It cost John Fitch plenty to feed his dog chicken last week.

The dog rambled away from its own yard and destroyed a lot of chickens on a neighboring lot. Fitch had to pay for the dead fowl.

Then the owner of the poultry went before Mayor George Bradbury and signed an affidavit against Fitch for permitting his dog to run at large in violation of a village ordinance. A warrant was issued, and Fitch was fined $5 and costs on this charge, with the court suspending the fine.

Fire Truck Towed To Scene Of Blaze

CANTON, July 14.—This might be a sermon on preparedness, Sugar Creek, Tuscarawas county village, hadn't had a fire since last winter. Then came an alarm. Before volunteers could get the pumper truck under way they were forced to remove chains from the rear wheels.

On the way to the blaze, a grass fire on the edge of the village, the truck ran out of gasoline. A passing motorist towed the apparatus to the fire. The blaze was beaten out with brooms. Returning to the station two tires on the truck blew out.

Sunday Dancing Now Permitted At Milton

YOUNGSTOWN, July 14.—The blare of the saxophone and the shuffle of dancing feet last night heralded the advent of a new regime at Lake Milton, near here, as Mrs. Pennola Jones, 66-year-old mayor of the newly incorporated village, began her "pepping-up" campaign.

Silence, long synonymous with Lake Milton's Sabbath, was shattered, the announcement that Sunday dancing would be permitted spread through the dance halls and concessions around the lake, source of Youngstown's water supply.

YOUTH TELLS OF BRUTAL SLAYING

Girl Repulsed Advances; Killed With Shaker; Burned In Furnace

PORTLAND, MAINE, July 14.—A 22-year-old youth, alleged by police to have confessed the brutal slaying of a 20-year-old girl when she repulsed his advances, today pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder.

James M. Mitchell was arrested yesterday a few hours after the charged body of Miss Lillian I. MacDonald was found in a furnace in the basement of a Congress street stationery store, where both were employed.

The young woman was last seen alive Saturday morning when she went to the basement to distribute pay envelopes.

She had approximately $800 and Mitchell, according to County Attorney Ralph H. Ingalls, said he took only his own pay and burned the remainder with the body.

Mitchell, officers said, made advances to the young woman and when she slapped his face, picked up the shaker of the furnace, struck her over the head and then delivered another blow as she fell to the floor. He then pushed her

Woman Divorced on Grounds of Insanity Sees Fortune Grow Rapidly

NEW YORK, July 14.—Mrs. Ida A. Flagler is dead, leaving a fortune of $12,000,000 accumulated from a $1,000,000 trust fund created for her by the late Henry M. Flagler when he divorced her in 1901 on the grounds of incurable insanity.

She died Saturday of cerebral hemorrhage in her private cottage on the grounds of a sanitarium at Central Valley, N. Y., and was buried yesterday in Cypress Hills cemetery, Brooklyn. She was at the sanitarium when Flagler obtained a divorce in Florida under a special act of the legislature as the state statutes do not recognize insanity as a cause for divorce. The marriage was in 1893.

This trust fund consisted largely of Standard Oil securities, dividends from which multiplied the original sum twelve-fold. Flagler was one of the founders of Standard oil.

TWO HELD IN SHOOTING HERE

jury to a nerve.

A party at which Dragich, Miss Tinney, Murphy and some friends were present, was held at the Dragich home Saturday, Sheriff Barlow announced today after questioning Miss Tinney. The woman denied that she had been drinking but told Thompson and the sheriff that both Dragich and Murphy had been slightly intoxicated. Her story is contradicted by Dragich who said that she was intoxicated.

The shooting occurred in the kitchen of the apartment. Miss Tinney denied that she was present at that time while Dragich claimed in his story to police that Murphy's wound was self-inflicted.

Woman Arrested in Lisbon

The woman disappeared from the place immediately after Murphy was taken to the hospital but was arrested in Lisbon by Sheriff Barlow at 2 a. m. Sunday. She was brought to Salem by the sheriff who communicated with Sturgis, the coroner arriving here at 2 p. m. Sunday when he started the inquest.

Dragich's story that Murphy's death was suicidal was investigated by the authorities until the course of the bullet as it penetrated the victim's neck was traced by physicians. The bullet entered Murphy's neck at such an angle that police believe it impossible for him to have shot himself. The man was right-handed. Thompson stated, while the bullet entered on the left side of his neck. There were no powder burns present on the body.

Murphy and Dragich are known to have been friends and on cordial terms. Both were employed in the enameling department of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, plant, Murphy coming here from Louisville, Ky., to work last October. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Murphy, reside in Georgetown, Ind. He had been employed at Mullins for the past 10 months.

America's Greatest Enemy
More to be feared than all possible attacks on this country, and do more harm than the great war. America's worst enemy is light-headedness known as catarrh. Just because your nose and head are not yet affected is no indication that you are not a sufferer. Many severe cases of indigestion are catarrhal—in fact, any ailment of long standing indicates a catarrhal trouble of some kind. You cannot expect good health as long as it remains, but you needn't keep on suffering from it. It starts the sluggish process up, purifies the blood and heals and soothes. There are hundreds of people in this town who need Mo-Ten Herbs to rid their systems of this nasty filthy disease called catarrh. Don't continue to suffer when you can get relief. Go today to J. H. Lease Drug Co., 3 Stores and get a bottle of Mo-Ten Herbs and get on the road to health.

MARKETS
SPECULATION PRESENT
NEW YORK, July 14.—The stock market was enlivened by a fairly broad resumption of speculation for the rise in the early trading was active in comparison to recent dull sessions.

Better tone of the market last week, with prices reaching their best levels at Saturday's close, lead to the conclusion in bullish quarters that reactionary tendencies had been thrown off at last. The market encountered a little selling during the middle of the morning, but the advance was soon resumed.

Radio Keith was an active feature. Rising more than 2 points. Shares rising 2 to 3 points included Atchison, Chesapeake and Ohio, Worthington Pump, Norfolk and Western, and Johns-Manville. American Tobacco sold up 4 U. S. Steel and Standard of New Jersey gained more than a point.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Lawrence, Who Aided Arabs in Revolt, Reported Active Again in Kurdish Campaign for Freedom.

T. E. LAWRENCE

LONDON, July 14.—The shining name of Colonel T. E. Lawrence, this prosaic century's most illustrious soldier of fortune, has just popped into news headlines once more.

This amazing Englishman who during the World War led the Arabs in their successful revolt against Turkish rule is today reported heading the Kurdish bid for freedom against Lawrence's old enemies—the Turks.

The brilliant danger-crammed career of Col. Lawrence is without parallel in modern history. His personality, shrouded in mystery and surrounded with the bright aura of romance, seems of the rare variety that would have won him a prominent place in the legendary Round Table in King Arthur's day when chivalry ruled the world.

Romantic Figure
This accomplished, scholarly and dauntless adventurer appears utterly out of tune with his times. One cannot reconcile the story of his life with an age ruled by machinery and the power brought by gold.

Thomas Edward Lawrence is 41 years old but he has lived through more dangers and accomplished more brilliant and valorous deeds than any contemporary figure. Educated at Oxford and a recognized archeologist, authority he entered the British army in 1910 as a second lieutenant.

One of the great legends about Lawrence is that as a young man he read ten thousand books on all subjects and in half a dozen languages during two or three years. By lying on a specially constructed couch he was able to assimilate the vast amount of knowledge contained in those many volumes with the minimum of discomfort.

During the war he rose rapidly in the army ranks to lieutenant colonel. Sent to Arabia under General Allenby, Lawrence disappeared one night into the desert and succeeded in organizing the ceaselessly quarreling Arab tribes against their masters, the Turks.

After the war he emerged from this astounding adventure—the most talked-about and sought-after celebrity of the war. Offered any gift within the English Government the famous British D'Artagnan refused them all.

Rebuked a King
A book by Robert Graves tells how he went to Buckingham Palace in Arabian costume and told King George to his face that his government had broken many promises of independence made to the Arabs for fighting against the Turks. Graves wrote that Lawrence threatened that he might soon be fighting with the desert men against his own country.

Blue Law Warfare In Ohio City Fades

STEUBENVILLE, July 14.—Sheriff William Yost has abandoned his intentions of enforcing the "blue laws" in Jefferson county, and unless someone else files affidavits, there will be no charges against merchants who did business on the Sabbath yesterday.

Most of the cigar stores, drug stores and other places usually open on Sunday were closed yesterday, however, although the sheriff had announced he would make no arrests. Yost said the necessity of discrimination had led to his decision to dismiss the "blue law" question.

Jones May Retire From Golf Following Amateur Tournament

ROESSLER, ALLEN ENTER NATIONAL MEET AT PITTSBURGH STADIUM

Victory Will Insure Champion All Titles Available In America

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 14.—The 28-year-old monarch of the links, Bobby Jones, already three-time champion in his all-conquering campaign of 1930, may retire from active competition if he completes his record-shattering march by regaining amateur championship at the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, in September.

The emperor himself, back home today in Atlanta after his third straight victory of the year and his 12th in eight years, has not definitely committed himself to any plans beyond competing in the last big event of the current season. But if he wins, there will be no more worlds of golf to conquer, no records to break except his own and his friends believe he will at least attempt to do so.

Established, Mark
Win or lose at Merion this year, Jones has set up a mark that generations of succeeding golfers probably will shoot at in vain. When he went abroad this spring with the Walker cup team, the odds were 50 to 1 against Bobby's winning all four of the major British and American championships. He has hurdled three of the four obstacles by winning the British amateur, British open and American open within a period of seven weeks.

Jones shattered the course record at Interlachen on his third round with a 68, the best he has ever scored in the event and a performance that put all of his rivals except MacDonald Smith to rout. He finished with a 72-hole figure of 287, his own lowest in American competition and within a stroke of tying Chick Evans' all time mark. He sank a 40-foot putt on the home green to finish two strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Mac Smith, who ended vain but gallant chase in 289. He was five strokes in front of Horton Smith, the young professional who led at the halfway mark.

Horton Once Beat Jones
These two Smiths have been the only ones to give Bobby much scoring competition for 1930. Horton Smith beat Jones at Savannah in one of the winter open tournaments, the only event of any kind that Bobby has lost this year. Mac Smith was the runner-up to the king in the British as well as the American open. Mac was a top-notch, tying for the American open 20 years when Bobby was first swinging a putter in the club at the age of eight. Such favorites as Tommy Armour, Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel, Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen fell by the wayside.

Mac Smith, the "hard luck guy" of golf, has had the misfortune to be playing his greatest game at a time when Jones was at his peak. The battle of Interlachen long will be remembered, not only for the achievement of Jones in winning his fourth American open, but for its kaleidoscopic turns. Mac Smith and Tommy Armour started the fireworks, each posting first rounds of 70, two under par, to lead the field. Horton Smith, with a second round of 70, stepped out in front at the halfway post. In his wake came Charles Lacey, Philadelphia "dark horse," galloping in out of the dusk, the last man off the field to score a 70, and the Jones for third place at 36 holes with 144.

Jones Takes Command
Bobby took command Saturday morning with his spectacular 68, the best round of the tournament, only to have his seven-stroke lead over Mac Smith actually down twice to a single stroke in the home stretch. The champion rallied each time after disaster was on his heels, capping the climax with his 40-foot finishing putt for a birdie.

The order of finish at Interlachen, with scores and prize money, was as follows:
Bobby Jones, 287, championship gold and medal; Mac Smith, 289 and $1,000; Horton Smith, 292 and $750; Harry Cooper, 293 and $500; John Golden, 294 and $350; Tommy Armour, 297 and $250; Johnny Farrell, 299 and $200; Craig Wood and Bill Mehlhorn, 300 and $137.50 each; Johnny Goodman and George Von Elm 301 and gold medals.

Al Heron, George M. Smith, Leo Diegel and Peter O'Hara, 301 and $80.25 each; Charles Guest, Joe Turney, Bob Shave, Willie Hunter, Mortie Dutra, Walter Hagen, Al Watrous and Ed Dudley, 303 and $47.50 each.
All those with scores of 303 or better automatically qualified for the 1931 open.

REDS LOOK GOOD AT HOME; TASTE DEFEAT ON ROAD

Giants Take 9-5 Verdict
From Cincinnati; Tribe
Defeats Red Sox

MACKMEN ADVANCE TO LEAGUE LEAD

Philadelphia Hammers On 17 Hits; Dodgers Lose
To Pirates, 1-0

The Cincinnati Reds have developed quite a punch at home, but it is strangely lacking when they take the road.
Last week they looked like a team of world beaters at Redland field, but yesterday when they moved to New York, they lost 9 to 5. They drove out a few runs to lead for a while then subsided when faced by Joe Hayman while the Giants started there and scored most of their runs in the last half of the game.

This result left the Reds with ten victories on the road and 24 at home.
The Cubs lost two games to the Boston Braves, 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. The first Boston victory was due to Harry Seibold's pitching, the second to the Massachusetts law which makes it necessary to stop Sunday games promptly at six o'clock. That hour came after the Cubs had scored four runs in the ninth before that inning ended and the score reverted to the eighth.

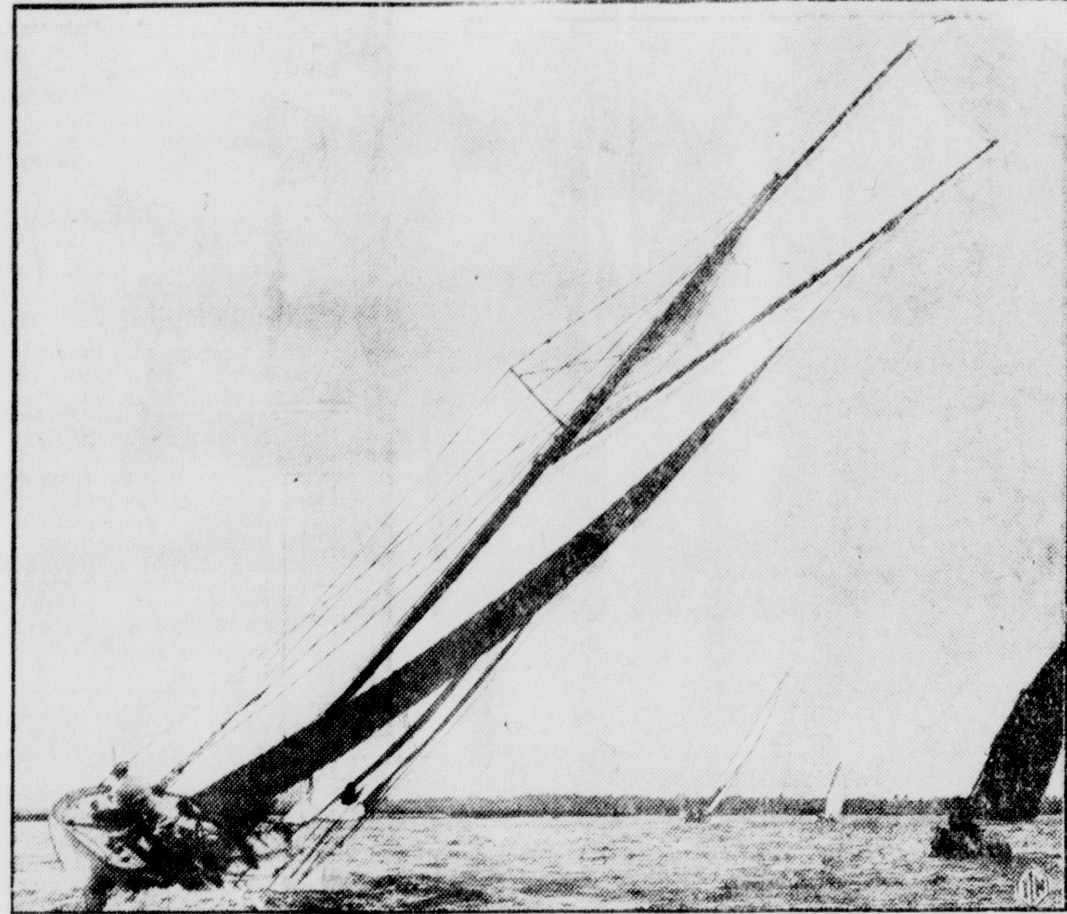

Robins Gain Slightly
Chicago's double defeat came as something of a boon to the league-leading Brooklyn Robins. They lost one of the year's toughest decisions to Pittsburgh, 1 to 0, but still gained a half game. Jim Elliott gave the Pirates only four hits while the Robins made nine off Larry French but wasted their opportunities by shoddy base running.

The other National league clubs were idle.
The Philadelphia Athletics once again forced to the top of the American league standing by pounding out a 12 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns while Detroit beat Washington, 5 to 4. These results placed the Athletics a full game in the lead.

The world's champions hammered out 17 hits, bunching them for five runs in the first inning and four in the third while Roy Mahaffey held the stillslipping Browns in check. For the second successive time, the Senators broke their rule of using only one pitcher to a game and Burk, the second, was charged with the defeat as Vic Sorrell won his own game by sending Koenig home with a single in the eighth.

The New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians won easy victories. The Yankees, although out of 14-11, did their scoring early and had only to check a Chicago rally that netted three runs in the ninth to defeat the White Sox, 7 to 5. Cleveland held fourth place, by

Salem Star Vaulters To Compete In A. A. U. Contests Next Month

Lowell E. Allen and Keith "Mutt" Roessler, the greatest single pair of pole vaulters ever developed in an Ohio high school, star Salem athletes for four consecutive years until 1928 when they graduated, will compete in the national Amateur Athletic Union field and track meet at Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh August 22-24-25.

The Salem stars, known as the pole vaulting twins during their scholastic careers, have entered the pole vault in the junior division while Allen will also compete in the senior section which will include the country's greatest collection of vaulters.

Roessler will compete as a member of the Pittsburgh Athletic association, having been affiliated with the P. A. A. since graduating from high school. Allen will in all probability be entered as an unattached contestant and points scored by him will be accredited to either Salem High or Mount Union college where he is now entered as a student.

Practice Regularly
Both youths are practicing regularly at a jumping pit installed at Roessler's home on Park street.

First three qualifiers in both senior and junior A. A. U. contests will be considered eligible to represent the United States in an international competition with a track and field aggregation from Great Britain. This meet will be held in London next September.

Allen is holder of the world's interscholastic high school pole vaulting record. He vaulted to the record height of 13 ft. 3 3/16 in. at the Chicago interscholastic meet two years ago. In 1926 he established the national record at Chicago at 12 ft. 4 in. but tied with two other athletes for first place at the height.

Roessler captured the high school track and field squad during their senior year and won points, along with Allen, in almost every meet he was entered in during his last two years at school. He attended Denison college for a semester.

Allen enrolled at the University of Michigan following his graduation from Salem High but transferred to Mount Union last September. He will be eligible for varsity competition at the Alliance college next term and is being groomed for both varsity basketball and track.

CHICAGO—It will be of no use to tune in for Amos 'n' Andy. They're on the way to Hollywood to make a movie and expect to arrive in time to resume the air Monday night.

War Picture, "Journeys End" Opens At Grand Tonight

The all-dialogue screen version of R. C. Sheriff's famous war play, "Journeys End" is the feature attraction at the Grand theater commencing today and seen for the first time here.

The production is enacted by a cast including Colin Clive, David Manners, Ian Maclaren, Anthony Bushell, Billy Bevan, Jack Palance, Thomas Whitely, Warner Klinger, Robert A. Dair and Charles Kerrard. "Journeys End" presents a picture of the France that was seen in the World War days. It is drawn by a playwright who was in the front line trenches and knew exactly what he was picturing.

The entire action of the play takes place in a dug-out and the 100 yards of No Man's Land that separates the British from the German trenches. It is March, 1918, before St. Quentin. Many German pushes have gone before—a big one is coming soon.

The British lieutenants and soldiers serving under a caredevil of a captain, Dennis Stanhope, know that C company—their outfit—never will retreat and that there are no reinforcements in the rear. The Boche drive, therefore, means "Taps" for them.

The four days before the attack are shown in the play—the reaction of the strain on the men is the subject of the drama. There is the reckless, yet masterful, Stanhope, drinking, always drinking, getting courage in that way to stay in there and pitch in in the fashion that has kept him in the front lines longer than any other captain in the regiment. There is the kindly "Uncle" Osborne, his second in the command; the fat and placid Lieutenant Trotter, with his passion for food; the nerve-shaken Lieutenant Hibbert; the boyish and likeable Raleigh who has just come over from England; and the cockney cook Mason.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"Shall I buy an Oriental rug, and how can I tell a good one?"

When a woman asks this question it means that she's made up her mind to fulfill a suppressed desire—to own an Oriental rug, and perhaps several. But it's one of the home purchases one makes warily. There's a technique about the recognition of a fine rug. Also it is an expensive item and if the ardour for a bargain is indulged, there is always a risk of a later disappointment.

As most people know, one of the characteristics of a good rug is the large number of knots to the square inch. That makes the texture, and the greater the number, the finer the weave, and the greater its endurance. Fine Kirmans have from 400 to 600 knots per inch, whereas some of the less expensive Turkish rugs have as little as 30 knots per square inch. A comparison of several rugs of varying quality, will reveal quickly which is the better woven.

But texture alone doesn't determine value. Pattern, design, color, all contribute toward the beauty of the rug and its value, and when an other factor enters—age—then it takes an expert to know what is good value. A rug must be at least 50-years old to be considered in the antique class.

The textile used also affects value. Cotton, linen, hemp, goat, camel and sheep's wool are all used in the making of rugs, the best material being the wool of Anzora, Kirman, Cashmere. If animal or vegetable dyes are used, then the coloring will wear better than if coal-tar dyes have been applied. The latter are more widespread today when western industrial ideas have invaded the Orient, and so it happens that many a modern authentic oriental rug may not equal in color or durability a well-made domestic rug which duplicates the oriental pattern and coloring.

By consulting some of the many excellent volumes, written on the subject of rugs by expert, plus a visit to some of the rug exhibitions, one can readily acquire some practical information about what's what in Oriental rugs. A fascinating subject—even when you don't buy any!

RANGERS CALLED TO RIOT SCENES

Mobs Drive Negroes From Cities In Texas After Alleged Murder of Woman

SHAMROCK, TEXAS, July 14.—Texas rangers were enroute to Shamrock from Austin today to prevent further action of mobs which have terrorized Negroes here and driven them in a body from Erick, Okla., as reprisals for the slaying of Mrs. Henry Vaughan by a Negro farm hand.

Four rangers were ordered to Shamrock upon request to Gov. Dan Moody by Sheriff W. K. McLemore who described the situation as threatening.

Several hundred men invaded the Negro quarter here Saturday night threatening to burn the homes of Negroes who had not heeded a posted warning to leave.

Peace officers at the nearby town of Erick, Okla., former home of Mrs. Vaughan, said a mob of similar size had driven every Negro from the town.

Jesse Lee Washington, Negro accused of having slain Mrs. Vaughan wife of his employer, with an iron pipe, is reported in the Oklahoma state reformatory at Granite.

Bettman Rules

COLUMBUS, July 14.—Municipal airports are subject to taxation unless they are used exclusively for city functions. According to an opinion by Attorney General Bettman. The ruling, given to the state tax commission, held that the municipal ports do not fall within the class of utilities to be assessed by the commission and therefore assessments and valuations must be made by county auditors. Of course it's a love story. Love for women, for children, for home, for peace and quiet, for sunshine and flowers.

For all that was their's before war ruthlessly snatched them, dressed them in khaki, put them to live in filthy huts and damp dug-outs, fed them frightful food, took away their freedom. War commandeered their bodies, but they left their hearts at home. Due to length of show feature starts at 7:00 o'clock so come early.
